FOR THE YEAR 1941

We have added to our list, two excellent lilies.

HARDY LILY GONNERE.

This is certainly the best white lily, blooms easily and the blooms are pure white, blooms are double, and is the only double white lily, I will sell plants of this lily for $1.50, and they are well worth the price.

TROPICAL LILY ROYAL PURPLE

This is a real good medium growing tropical lily, medium size deep purple blooms all Summer, a strong growing plant and the blooms are very fragrant. Plants of this excellent lily $2.00.

NIGET BLOOMING TROPICAL LILIES

LOTUS DENTATA, Large pure white blooms, a strong and vigorous growing lily, starts easily and blooms all Summer. Plants each $1.00
DEVONSHIRE, Bright, rosy red flowers of good size, a strong growing plant and a good bloomer. Plants each $1.00

WHAT LILIES ARE BEST

Some lily plants grow small and some grow heavy, and yet other lilies have a medium growth, so all conditions may be met with a plant that will do well.

In the Hardy White lilies, there is GLADSTONE for heavy growing and deep water, MARLIAC WHITE for places that need a medium growing plant, and then GONNERE that grows medium and has double pure white blooms.

In the Hardy Pink lilies, DE LAND will grow almost anywhere, right good for blooming and good size flowers, HELEN FOWLER is a nice medium growing plant, excellent blooming with medium size pure pink blooms, MARLIAC ROSE is one of the best medium growing plants, the blooms are beautiful pure rose pink.

In the Hardy Full Rose Colored lilies, ROSE AREY is a lily that grows well anywhere, blooms are a deep rose and good size, GLORIOSA is one of the best hardy lilies, will grow medium or heavy owing to location and fertilizing, CONQUEROR is one of the best deep rose lilies, blooms well, and is a strong growing medium plant.

In the Hardy Deep Red lilies, JAMES BRYDON is one of the deepest red, is a medium growing lily and real good, ESCARBOUCLE is a good plant and medium growing, it has the brightest red blooms of any lily.

In the Hardy Yellow lilies, MARLIAC YELLOW is a medium growing lily with good even yellow blooms, an old favorite, SUNRISE is a real good lily that grows heavy, should be given plenty of room, large deep yellow blooms that open early in the morning, YELLOW PYGMY is the lily suited for the small corner with shallow water, will grow in a pot, tub garden, or anyplace that 6 inches of water, 1½ inch deep yellow blooms.

In the Tropical Blue lilies, AUGUST KOCH is one of the best, is a nice even blue, grows large if given room and good soil, plants will bloom in small places, we have them bloom in five inch pots, PANAMA PACIFIC has very deep blue blooms almost purple, a sure blooming plant, one of the best.

DAUBEN is an excellent small growing lily, light blue color, will grow in warm place and give blooms steady, ROYAL PURPLE is a new addition, blooms are medium size and deep purple color, a quick growing strong plant.

Please remember that blue lilies can only be had in Tropical plants as there are no blue hardy lilies.

Nearly all the tropical lilies are fragrant, and the blue lilies named here are very fragrant, also a number of the hardy lilies have fragrant blooms.

HOW TO BUILD A LILY POOL.

Dig a form in the earth about twenty inches deep, slope the sides to 45 degrees, tamp smooth and hard. Make a cement plaster of one part cement, five parts sand and four parts small gravel. Give a thorough mixing while dry, add water to make a plaster just soft enough so about two inches thick can be plastered on the dirt form, have the top level.

Twelve hours after making fill with water, let soak four days, remove the water, refill and soak again four days, remove this water, refill and put in the plant boxes with good garden soil, also fish and plants.

A pool, size 6 by 10 feet, will require less than two sacks of cement, if built in this way, and will give many years of service.

After the pool has been built sometime, it may be painted on the inside with black asphalt paint, this paint must be put on the cement when fully dry, it helps to keep down the green algae that discolors the water.

If you live where the Winters are severe, just take out the fish, remove the water, fill the pool with leaves or straw a foot or more deep, cover with boards or some good cover for the Winter. The lilies, if hardy, will not be damaged but will sleep through the Winter in good shape.

CULTURE NOTES FOR WATER LILIES AND WATER PLANTS.

Place the lily pool in full Sunshine, there will be more blooms, and the plants will grow better, water lilies and water plants are Summer growing, and must have warm weather.

Do not use plant boxes that are too small, 20 to 24 inches square is right and about 10 inches deep, water lilies should have room for the roots to spread.

Plant hardy lilies in April, May, or in the Summer months. Plant tropical lilies anytime after June 1st.

Water lilies should be planted in rich garden soil, and after growth has started, put a little bone meal to the roots of each plant several times during Summer.

Settle the plants into the soil with the buds just out, top of soil should be about eight inches from surface of the water.

Cover the top of soil in plant boxes with large gravel, so fish cannot dig out the lily roots, and retard their growth.

Plenty of plants, some hardened plaster paris, and plenty of snails, will keep the pool clear. Run in some fresh water each week if convenient.

Keep goldfish in the lily pool and no mosquitoes will be raised.
